Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-12 are allowed.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 1-12 are allowable over the prior art of record since the cited references taken individually or in combination fail to teach or fairly suggest means for "determining whether a data link is released or not when a call is released", for "counting a predetermined time according to the determination of the determining means" and for "starting a process for releasing the data link according to a passage of the predetermined time" as recited in claims 1, 11 and 12. It is noted that the closest prior art, Hasegawa (US Patent No. 5,208,806), teaches the ISDN terminal equipment, which can operate with either a circuit switching communications system or a packet switching communications system under the normal operational conditions. However, Hasegawa fails to suggest time-delayed data link release means as required by the claimed invention.
